Summer Peace Summit
Global Women for Global Growth

June 26, 2020

The P50 Summer Peace Summit brings together women from many countries throughout the world. They will discuss ways how to overcome current challenges, which were triggered by the pandemic.

The summit will address the question:

How can women contribute to peace in a sustainable development sense?

The topics that will be discussed during the Summit:

- Overcoming social consequences of the pandemic
- Crisis of the world system of values
- Consequences of consumerism on welfare and ecology
- Combating misinformation in the media
- Formats of global collaborations among women

Women leaders from 5 countries will guide the discussions:

Gülden TÜRKTAN (Turkey), Caroline CODSI (Canada), Marina VOLYNKINA (Russia), Joynicole MARTINEZ (USA), Marina ZOLOTOVA (USA), Carol KINSEY GOMAN (USA), Miriam LEITNER (Germany), Theresia ROMBERG-FREDE (Germany), Vanda GAGIANO (RSA).

They are all founders of significant social projects, experts in their fields of activities, and community leaders. The speakers of the Summit are united by common values and the desire to change the world using the soft power of love and compassion.
This is the second Summit of P50 community members. The first Summer Peace Summit was held in June 2019 in Brussels. Its participants included 50 women from 14 countries.

Online broadcast of the event will take place on June 26, 2020, at 2 pm Moscow time.
The broadcast of the Summit in Russian and English will be available on the website of Peace 50.

About Peace 50 community

Peace 50 brings together women from different countries having common values including humanism and aspiration to sustainable and harmonious development. Participants of the community take the responsibility for preservation of peace among peoples and cultures.

The community includes women leaders from different countries each of whom carries out unique projects in her field of activity. Such a number of participants makes it possible to provide conditions for real dialogue and mutual enrichment with ideas.

Peace 50 members constantly interact with one another between the summits and exchange their ideas and competencies. Powerful social initiatives appear as a result. You can learn more about them in the Impact Projects section on the website of the Global Women Media news agency.

The absence of member fees and no attachment to government structures are the two key principles of the community.
